

Kevin leads the Advancement efforts for Good News Global. Kevin has always been passionate about getting people connected to advance an organization's mission. Connecting the heart of a donor with the mission of the organization is at the core of his work. That takes time, but like any relationship – the investment is very rewarding personally and professionally.

Kevin and his wife live outside of Dayton, Ohio with their high school daughter and two rescue dogs who are moderately well behaved.